STATE CONVENTION.

Report of the Proceedings of the Republican Convention.—

Temporary Organization in Favor of the Anti-Wolcott Men.

Struggle over the Report of the Committee on Credentials,

In which the Wolcott Faction Score a Victory,

In Spite of the Partisan Delegation from El Paso.

Something About the Combinations of the Windmills.

Chances of Wolcott Considered to be Better.

Special to the GAZETTE.

DENVER, September 14.—At the meeting of the convention this morning the anti-Wolcott forces were very sanguine because of the caucus last night. Wolcott men were hopeful and defiant. In the temporary organization the anti-Wolcott men were successful and their confidence of victory was increased. They had control of the committee on credentials, and felt that this would enable them to divide the Arapahoe delegation. Wolcott men wisely effected an early adjournment and granted any more points being made on them. In the interval between the forenoon and afternoon sessions Wolcott men were not so hopeful as they had been. It was understood the real struggle would be in the afternoon over the report of the committee on credentials. The committee finally reported in favor of giving anti-Wolcott men a pro rata representation in the first ward in Denver, thus making the Wolcott delegation thirty-eight votes for Wolcott and five for anti-Wolcott. Willard Teller made a great speech in favor of admitting anti-Wolcott delegates. It was an able and advised speech, in which he made a mean allusion to Senator Hill. Gov. Routt first spoke in a fair and impartial manner. He was followed by Ed. Wolcott in a brilliant speech which captured the convention. It was only seven minutes in length and covered every point. Though anti-Wolcott men were confident of throwing out these five Wolcott men, the vote showed only 82 in favor of this to 228 against. The triumph was so decisive that it at once changed the whole situation. El Paso and Pitkin have the honor of being the only delegations that voted solidly to defeat the will of the republicans of Arapahoe county. Counties with candidates for governor would not take such partisan action. Maxwell's and Eaton's counties voted solidly for retaining the solid Wolcott delegation in Arapahoe. Lake cast a majority the same way. The El Paso delegation seemed, however, to be tools entirely and has the reputation of casting the most partisan vote against Wolcott of any delegation in the convention. The general feeling here is that Chaffee holds it under his thumb to do what he wishes with it. Nothing else of importance was done in the convention and adjournment was made almost immediately.

Tonight the combinations of the anti-Wolcott men are all broken up and the chances of Wolcott are on all hands considered better. The Chaffee faction are now trying to run a new man like Chilcott and are weakening themselves by showing their hands too much. Wolcott's friends are now full of hope and confidence, while the anti-Wolcott men are at sea without a definite purpose and full of distrust of each other.

Last evening's edition of the World contained the following: The republican state convention assembled at the Tabor grand Opera house in accordance with previous arrangement. For several days delegates have been arriving in town and the offices of the hotels have been filled with peer, inquiring men. Factional spirit has been high, and a good deal of feeling has been exhibited by the friends of the various candidates. Happily, the action of the convention in session will, it is hoped, settle all the questions of difference and the several factions of the party here will confess and submit for the good of the whole.

The nominations to be made are for

One Representative in the Forty-eighth Congress.

One Judge of the Supreme Court.

One Governor.

One Lieutenant Governor.

One Secretary of State.

One State Treasurer.

One Auditor of State.

One Attorney General.

One Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Two Regents of the University.

The delegates began to arrive at the opera house as early as half-past nine o'clock, but had to wait until ten o'clock before the doors were opened. The arrangements for seating the various delegates together were first rate, and reflected credit upon Secretary Clark. Looking from the stage, the several delegates were located as follows: On the right, from the lower parquette Arapahoe county occupied four blocks of seats. Above the forty-three men of Arapahoe sat in succession, Custer, Pueblo, Chaffee, Gunnison, Summit, Park, El Paso, Bent, Saguache, La Plata, Rio Grande, Huerfano and Conejos. On the left, looking from the stage and directly opposite Arapahoe, sat the thirty-nine delegates from Lake. Then came the representatives from Pitkin, Douglass, Larimer, Clear Creek, Grand, Routt, Fremont, Boulder, Jefferson, Weld, Gilpin, Elbert, Hinsdale, San Juan, Ouray, Las Animas, Costilla, Dolores. Two rows of seats in the dress circle were reserved for ladies, the remainder of the house being surrendered to spectators.

Previous to the opening hour a large number of delegates and newspaper men had gathered about the front and side entrances. The doors having finally been thrown open, the house was speedily filled, the stage being occupied by a number of republican citizens of the state and a large number of representatives of the city and state press. Tables had been provided for the reporters on the right front of the stage the table of the presiding officer being on the left. As the delegates filed into the auditorium they proceeded to their places in accordance with the banners designating their positions.

The rear portion of the dress circle, the second tiers, were packed with spectators long before the several delegations had been properly seated. The third tier of private boxes were crowded with lookers-on, but those on the first and second tiers were vacant. The wholesome order issued by Chairman Routt in regard to cigars and the use of tobacco in the house was fully observed, and by the time the entire audience was settled it presented as orderly and genteel an appearance as any that ever collected within the walls of the house. The convention opened at 10 o'clock, the orchestra of the opera house, under the leadership of Professor Emil O. Wolfe, filed to their places, and after a few moments of preliminary tuning up, played an overture, which being concluded, Governor Routt called the convention to order.

At 10.20, in calling the convention to order, Governor Routt, as chairman of the state central committee, instructed the assistant secretary of the committee, Mr. Charles Bryan, to read the call of the convention. This Mr. Bryan did with a clear, distinct enunciation.

Governor Routt then introduced Rev. Dr. Jeffery to offer prayer. The invocation being concluded at 10.30, Chairman Routt announced that the first business in order was the nomination of a temporary chairman. Judge Bowen nominated Hon. Charles W. Tankersly, of Lake county. General Hamill then nominated Hon. W. W. Webster. The roll of the counties was then called. As the county chairmen responded the adherents of the different candidates applauded with a will.

The vote resulted as follows:

| | Tankersly | Webster |
|---|---|---|
| Arapahoe | | 43 |
| Bent | 3 | |
| Boulder | 14 | |
| Conejos | 5 | 3 |
| Costilla | 3 | 1 |
| Custer | 6 | 3 |
| Chaffee | 12 | |
| Clear Creek | | 17 |
| Douglas | | 4 |
| Dolores | 2 | 2 |
| Elbert | | 3 |
| El Paso | 13 | |
| Fremont | 7 | |
| Gilpin | 13 | |
| Grand | | 2 |
| Gunnison | 11 | |
| Hinsdale | 3 | 3 |
| Huerfano | 6 | |
| Jefferson | 4 | 5 |
| Lake | 39 | |
| Larimer | 7 | |
| La Plata | 4 | |
| Las Animas | 6 | |
| Ouray | 3 | 3 |
| Park | 5 | 3 |
| Pueblo | 6 | 3 |
| Pitkin | 4 | |
| Routt | | 1 |
| Rio Grande | 4 | |
| Summit | 14 | 8 |
| Saguache | 6 | |
| San Juan | 2 | 1 |
| Weld | 9 | |
| | 211 | 103 |
| Total | 317 | |

The announcement of the votes was received with the loudest applause.

Judge Tankersly was called to the chair, and, having been introduced by Governor Routt, made a short speech.

He took it that they had met to nominate a ticket which would be supported by every element of the party. He trusted that the party would by the action of the convention be harmonized and the democratic party be opposed by a solid front. In this convention all asperities must cease; of the candidates for nomination nothing but good could be said, and whoever was chosen should receive the hearty support of all. He, as chairman, would do all that he could to facilitate the work of the convention. There were no factions in the republican party. Gentlemen outside had preferences, but these preferences succumbed to the will of the convention. The speech of Judge Tankersly was in excellent taste and was well received.

Judge Downing, of Gunnison, and Charles P. Bryan, of Clear Creek, were elected secretaries.

Mr. J. W. Jenkins moved that a committee of nine be appointed committee on credentials.

Governor Routt moved to amend by making one from each county; lost. And Mr. Jenkins' motion was adopted.

The committee on credentials was appointed as follows:

J. F. Sanders, Lake; J. A. McDonald, Conejos; John L. Routt, Arapahoe; L. Nichols, Gilpin; William Akers, Lake; C. F. Newcomb, Rio Grande; A. J. Shellhamer, Park; J. W. Richards, Jefferson; J. E. Slagle, Pitkin.

A committee of nine on permanent organization, rules and order of business was ordered, but on the point of Mr. Stanton, that such a motion was not in order until the committee on credentials report, the point was decided well taken.

Mr. E. O. Wolcott moved that the convention take a recess until 1:30. So ordered, and the convention recessed until 1:30.

[Associated Press Report.]

At 1.30 the opera house was again packed to its utmost capacity. After the convention was called to order the Hon. Chas. Bryan offered a resolution highly complimentary to the ex-chairman of the state republican committe, ex-Governor Jno. L. Routt. The resolution was carried amidst great applause. Judge Tankersly then stated that the committee on credentials were not ready to report and the convention took a recess of an hour, and at this hour, 3.15, are still out.

Immediately after adjournment some one called for Judge Belford and on that gentleman showing himself three cheers were given for "the red headed rooster of the Rocky mountains." The judge spoke for about twenty minutes, complimented Gov. Tabor, reviewed briefly the course of the Colorado delegation in congress, thanked God that Henry M. Teller was secretary of the interior, and said that whoever was nominated at this convention should be his candidate, and promised them his entire, earnest and hearty support. Calls were made for Judge Decker, Maxwell, Symes and McNeely, and each in turn came forward with a rousing speech of ten or fifteen minutes, and all were heartily cheered. The utmost good feeling prevails.

At about 4 o'clock the committee on credentials came in and their report was read. A delegate from Larimer moved its adoption, except that part referring to Arapahoe and Grand counties, in which it was alleged there had been irregularities. The question was put and carried.

Mr. Wolcott moved the delegates from Arapahoe county possessing the credentials of the convention be admitted to the floor.

Mr. Parks, of Lake, said: "I am not posted on this question and should like to hear some one on the subject."

Hon. Willard Teller was called for. Mr. Teller was asked to step to the stage and amid cheers he said, "I expect to be heard on this question. [A voice, 'You shall.'] You have heard the report of the committee on credentials. Last Saturday I went before the convention in this county and from that day to this no man has seen fit to deny the facts that I presented then, and I shall briefly represent them now." Mr. Teller then proceeded to relate what he termed the outrage in the primaries in the first ward. His speech was quite lengthy and by many considered a ringer, and called forth applause and hisses alternately—from the different factions. Things were beginning to get lively about this time.

At the conclusion of Mr. Teller's speech ex-Governor Jno. L. Routt stepped upon the stage and said: "I'm sorry that circumstances seem to make it proper for me to make a few remarks. I am not here to wash dirty linen, but as a representative of the party that I helped organize. My say so in Colorado is as good as Mr. Teller's. I'm sick and ought not to be here, but I'll stay when the party is in peril. I'm not here to make a speech." He then proceeded to detail the evidence sent to the committee on credentials and said there was no evidence that the ballot was tampered with. The talk of Mr. Teller was nonsense that he came here to talk for a bum combination. There is not a man living who can tell which side is right in this First ward contest. Supposing there was a mistake in this ward there was none in the county convention and there was none in the delegation that was sent by that convention.

Mr. Wolcott then arose in his seat and made a ringing speech of twenty minutes. Among other things he said: "I understand that this convention has no jurisdiction over the primaries of Colorado. These primaries were held and no man thinks them less defensible than I do. The fifth ward delegation was admitted, although it was known that more votes had been cast than there were of both republican and democratic at the last election. The delegation of forty-three from Arapahoe county are republicans and were republicans at the election of Garfield. I care too much for the personal feeling of those who are opposed to us in this fight, but I assure you that in spite of all this we are republicans."

The amendment that those who held credentials from the county convention from Arapahoe be admitted, was then put to a vote. The amendment was carried and the Wolcott delegates were admitted by a vote of 220 to 91.

The report pertaining to Grand county was then taken up.

Mr. Hamill, of Clear Creek, objected to the admission of the delegates from that county.

Mr. Weber, one of the contestants, said he and his associate were the only delegates holding a certificate from the Grand county convention.

On motion of Blasell of Lake the previous question was called up and was carried by three hundred and fourteen majority. The amendment to admit Weber and Dean instead of Mills and Caswell was then put and lost.

The following is a list of the delegates holding seats in the convention:

The End of an Elopement.

ST. LOUIS, September 14.—A Post-Dispatch special from Chattanooga says six months ago two sisters named Merriweather, daughters of a well-known citizen of Huntsville, Ala., eloped to this city with two beaux and were married. One of the sisters, whose husband's name was Davis, discovered he was a gambler and an opium eater. He maltreated her and she left him. He dogged her for months and on Tuesday night told her to return to him or a murder would follow. He had a pistol in his hand at the time. She was also armed and instantly shot him through the bowels. He died at 2 a. m. today, asking that she should not be arrested as she did it in self-defense.

ARABI'S DOWNFALL.

He was Stoned by the Angry People of Cairo,

And was Detained by the Prefect of Police as a Prisoner.

Negotiations for Surrender Proceeding with the Rebels.

ALEXANDRIA, September 14. Arabi Pasha and Toulba Pasha arrived at Cairo last night. They are virtually prisoners.

ALEXANDRIA, September 14, 10 p. m.—Butroes Bey, Reouf Pasha and Ali Pasha arrived to-day and proceeded to the palace where they presented to the khedive, on the part of the inhabitants of Cairo, an address, pledging loyalty and submission. They were delegated to present this address at a meeting held yesterday, at which there were present several high dignitaries, notables and ulemas including Sheikh El Edwi, hitherto a staunch partisan of Arabi Pasha. The sheikh, however, took no part in the proceedings of the meeting. The delegates came from Cairo to-day by railway, which is intact. Butroes Bey told the khedive that the rebel forces at Tel el Kebir at the time of the British attack consisted of 35,000 regulars, 7,000 Bedouins and 3,000 volunteers. The first news of Wednesday's battle that reached Cairo reported a great Egyptian victory at Tel-el-Kebir. When subsequently it was announced that Arabi Pasha was on his way to Cairo it was rumored that he bore with him Admiral Seymour's head, and the people of Cairo had never heard of General Wolseley and imagined Admiral Seymour commanded the British force. When he did arrive they stoned him. Everything was quiet when the delegates left there.

The khedive gave a grand banquet to-night in honor of General Wood and Admiral Dowell. Sir Edward Malet, British consul, and all members of the staff of the British consulate were present.

TEL-EL-KEBIR, September 14.—British casualties in Wednesday's battle: Killed, nine officers, 45 men; wounded, 22 officers, 330 men. The enemy's loss is estimated at 1,500, killed and wounded. General Wolseley has gone forward on his way to Cairo.

ISMAILIA, September 14. Orders have arrived to send the baggage of staff officers to Cairo. Sultan Pasha, representative of the khedive, together with a number of notables, leave for Cairo to-day.

ALEXANDRIA, September 14. The offer to surrender Kafr el Dwar is not unconditional. It is reported from Cairo that the prefect of police has arrested Arabi Pasha.

LONDON, September 14. General Wolseley telegraphs cavalry will push on to Cairo to-day by forced march along the desert route.

TEL-EL-KEBIR, September 14.—Our loss is 150, including thirty killed, and eight officers among the dead. General Lowe is at Belbeis with cavalry and a brigade of Highlanders is marching towards Zagazig and is in possession of the railway to Cairo. All of Arabi Pasha's papers were seized here and hundreds of fugitives, including many officers, are surrendering.

September 14. General Wolseley has gone to Zagazig.

LONDON, September 14.—General Wood telegraphs the war office from Alexandria, to-day, as follows: An officer, from Kafr-el-Dwar has brought a letter saying all military chiefs wish to submit to the khedive. They have given orders to open the canal dam, and ask me to reopen the telegraph. They have stopped all hostilities.

Toulba Pasha has sent a flag of truce offering to surrender. General Wood telegraphed to General Wolseley for instruction. A deputation from Cairo at Kafr-el-Dwar is waiting to come in. The enemy have opened the canal and water is coming down. Orders have been issued for the dyke at Megas, in Lake Mareotis to be closed.

The conditions of the surrender are not known, the general opinion here is that the natives will deliver up Arabi Pasha to the British. The British troops have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to take possession of Kafr el Dwar. General Wolseley telegraphs about sixty guns were captured at Tel el Kebir, and says Arabi has gone to Cairo. General Wolseley hopes the cavalry will occupy Belbeis to-day, and the infantry will arrive there to-morrow. He expects to take possession of Bercha to-day, and if all is well, to advance immediately to Gallonbef with the guards.

It is reported that Arabi Pasha has been captured near Benaho.

ALEXANDRIA, September 14. Negotiations for the surrender are proceeding satisfactorily. The British probably will occupy Cosgel Devan to-morrow. It is stated that the treaty will be unconditional.

Melville Interviewed.

NEW YORK, September 14.—A Tribune reporter interviewed Melville. When asked if he had anything to say in regard to Lieut. Danenhower's statements concerning him, Melville replied he could say nothing until after an official investigation had been made. "I only wish to tell the world that I have done my duty. Further than this I can't speak; my lips are sealed."

NEW YORK, September 14. The Times has the following: "Engineer Melville was introduced to each of the reporters, and when asked whether he wished to communicate with the public upon any point of special interest, he said: "No, not at this time; the whole matter, the condition of the Jeannette, the trip and the results, are to be investigated by a naval court of inquiry, and I am not allowed to say anything until examined by the court. Then everything will be made plain." Here a naval officer interrupted him with "you know, of course, that congress has appointed a special committee to investigate the matter." "Yes," answered Melville, and at this point several members of the committee began to shout, "Here, Melville, come here. Don't you say anything; you have said quite enough," and one of the committeemen seized him by the collar and hastily withdrew him from the society of the reporters of newspapers. The gentlemen protested that they had no desire to seek information which should only be given to the committee on investigation. A naval officer stated that Melville has the Jeannette log and a private log, Lieutenant DeLong's last written instruction to him, and in fact that he is prepared at the proper time to repeat De Long's words to him.

NEW YORK, September 14.—Engineer Melville, of the Jeannette Arctic expedition, was given a public reception to-day at the city hall. As he entered the governor's room he recognized an old friend, Chief-engineer Danby, U. S. N. retired, and rushing up to him clasped him in his arms and kissed him again and again. Two thousand citizens paid their respects to Melville, who shook hands warmly with each visitor.

Tilden's Condition.

BOSTON, September 14. Despite reports to the contrary it has been ascertained beyond doubt that the health of ex-Governor Tilden is such as to excite the greatest alarm among his friends. Tilden is now a perfect wreck physically and mentally. He has enjoined on the members of his household the necessity of absolute secrecy as to his condition and occupies almost his entire time in connecting the methods necessary to carry out this injunction. His hallucination on this point is manifested at almost all hours of the day and his incoherent utterances are said to continue uninterruptingly day after day and week after week. For some time past Tilden has secluded himself from everybody at Greystone, which orders were given by his medical advisor at the first and which were opposed by Tilden. The Gramercy park residence continues to be visited daily by numerous callers, who are given no hint as to Tilden's absence or his critical condition. Notwithstanding attempts at secrecy, Tilden's critical condition and illness has become known to a few persons, and it has been found impossible to deny admission to every caller. At times Tilden refuses to receive his most intimate friends or medical adviser; that when some of the press desires to have an interview with him he earnestly says "Wait a few days."

Application of the Chinese Law.

NEW YORK, September 14.—The Herald's editorial says: Rabid Chinese haters of California seem to have lost no opportunity of make themselves ridiculous and the anti-Chinese law odious to the people by the absurd application of the law which they endeavor to make. The latest of these cases is where objection was made to the landing of a Chinese crew on the ground that they had no certificates, but Judge Hoffner held that as they had shipped from this country before the law went into effect it had been impossible for them to obtain certificates. He accordingly decided that they were entitled to land. In a recent case before Justice Field it was contended that the crew of a steamer which had sailed from this country and returned, were not entitled to land because during the voyage they had gone ashore in a foreign port. This contention is about as absurd as that made in a recent case of a Chinese laborer who set out to come from San Francisco to New York by a railroad line which runs from Detroit to Niagara Falls, through Canada; at the latter point he was not allowed to come into this country on the ground that the act of congress does not allow any Chinese laborer, without a certificate, to enter the United States from any foreign country. Returning to Detroit the perplexed celestial was refused admission.

Democratic Convention of Nebraska.

OMAHA, September 14.—The democratic state convention was held here to-day, General M. M. Montgomery, of Lincoln, being elected president, and D. W. Smalls, of Fremont, secretary. Resolutions were adopted demanding the abolishment of all protective tariff; that taxes be abolished denouncing the reckless squandering of money in the recent river and harbor bill; star route fraudulent contracts; Hubbell two per cent. assessments; multiplication of salaries and perquisites for the innumerable swarm of office holders; also claiming the right of regulation of all intoxicating drinks, but denouncing prohibition.

Cheyennes Raiding.

OMAHA, Neb., September 14.—Information was received here to-day of rather an indefinite character that a band of 400 or 500 Indians have appeared along Beaver creek on the Kansas line south of Dundy county, southwest Nebraska; stealing horses and murdering settlers. Superintendent Halderidge of the B. & M. railway in response to a request has sent an order for a large quantity of ammunition to be sent on the train to-morrow. The Indians are supposed to be Cheyennes, and are following the route which was taken by the Cheyennes on their raid north from Indian Territory four years ago. There is said to be considerable excitement in southwestern Nebraska.

Base Ball.

CHICAGO, September 14.

| | |
|---|---|
| Chicagos | 1 0 0 2 0 5 0 1—9 |
| Providence | 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0—2 |

This is regarded as the game which is likely to decide the championship. A crowd of about 8,000 was present. The game was stubbornly contested but the Chicagos evinced great superiority in every respect.

Creedmoor Shooting.

CREEDMOOR, September 14.—Bad wind is a bad omen for good scores. Shooting began at two hundred yards range at 10 a. m.

At the 200 yards range the British made 378; Americans 369.

Six hundred yards—Americans 343, British 344.

Missouri Pacific Dividend.

NEW YORK, September 14. The Post says the directors of the Missouri Pacific, now in session, have received and approved the recommendations from the committee on finance, made yesterday, and passed a resolution declaring a scrip dividend, payable June 1st, 1883, for total amount due preferred stock, which was July 1st last, $4,585,449. The scrip is to bear interest at 6 per cent. per annum, and to be redeemed upon 30 days' notice, in not less than one year nor more than five years from date of issue, and is payable to stockholders of record December 10th, 1882, from which date to January 5th, transfer books will remain closed.

Mining Market.

NEW YORK, September 14.—Mining stocks fairly active. Consolidated Virginia advanced from 1.10 to 1.25; California from 31 to 35; Hall Anderson advanced to 1.80. Notwithstanding the political excitement the Denver papers occasionally have time to bore people about their circulation

The first Colorado nails were manufactured the other day. The fact is not exciting people very much, but we rather think it is of more importance to the state than the absorbing question of the governorship.

Mayor Lord, of Brooklyn, has issued an anti-Hubbell circular. And the democratic general committee of Brooklyn has passed some resolutions which seem to have had the spoils in plain view. How many democratic civil service reformers are there anyway?

A democratic paper asks a question which ought to be of interest to republicans: "The republican party of Alabama has formally been disbanded. So it has in Texas, in "Virginia, in Missouri, in Kentucky, while in "almost every other southern state its organization is merely nominal. How will "delegations from these states be made up in "1884, and what will be the wording of the "call for the national convention?" The representation in the national convention should be based on republican votes.

The New York Herald touches on a certain phase of American policy in the following in regard to "Boys for the Navy:" "Except on "the schoolship St. Mary's, which is a part of "the public school system of this city, there "is no place where an American boy can be "thoroughly trained as a sailor except on one "of the schoolships of the navy department. "There is now room on these vessels for more "boys, and as pupils are paid for attending "such floating schools the chance for boys "who want to be sailors and have sense and "determination enough to study seems to be "unusually good. The conditions of admission, "or enlistment are given in another column "of this paper. Some day the present breed "of incompetent congressmen will die out, "and a new class of lawmakers will permit "merchant ships to carry the American flag; "then there will be a chance for our young "sailors"

At this time of year, when the question of what to study is a matter of considerable interest to students and their friends, a good deal is likely to be said about studying something practical. It is worth while to say again what has been said before, that what many persons would call a practical course of study simply means a narrow course. This study and that study is objected to on the ground that it will never be of any practical benefit, that the student will never have occasion to use it. And Latin and Greek, which for centuries have been very important factors in a liberal education, are made to bear the brunt of the assault of the "practical" people. All such objections leave out of view the real, important part of education—the cultivation of the mental faculties. Suppose we should apply the same test to some other studies, how much better would they fare? How many men feel in actual life that any very great value attaches to the ability to extract the cube root of a number? Yet this little art, taught to children in the common schools, is not of the sort to meet the disapproval of our "practical" friends. Probably a person who will think on the subject a moment will admit that oftener in his life he would be glad to know the meaning of a Latin word or phrase than to understand the extraction of the cube root. Apply the same thing to algebra, to geometry, and to other branches of knowledge. Let the objection to any study that is not likely to come into use in actual life be carried to its logical conclusion and how little learning will be found valuable. A business man said something to us on this subject not long ago which is worthy of thought. He said that in his life he had employed many men and that he preferred for any sort of work men who could think. This is the great point. One great object of a liberal education is to teach men to think. Too many of our professional and business men have not properly cultivated this power, and the battle of life is harder because of the lack. Lawyers and doctors especially are in the habit of beginning their studies without the proper mental training. The sick would fare better if medical schools refused to receive students unless they have either a college education or its equivalent. It would seem to some that because people without education often succeed and people with education often fail the value of education must be small. The greatest of Roman orators answered this objection nineteen centuries ago when he said that natural ability is worth more than letters. The object of studying is not to give powers but to cultivate them. Now the particular manner of doing this is probably not so important, but the experience of a long time testifies that Latin and Greek are among the most valuable aids to thorough mental culture. Let every student, whatever he studies, beware of narrowness.

The Critics Recognized His Style.

London Telegraph.

In musical annals several instances are recorded of operatic overtures composed at high pressure, and a recently-published biography of Boieldieu has added another interesting anecdote of this class to those with which most musicians are already familiar. It appears that on the eve of the day upon which the dress rehearsal of "La Dame Blanche" was appointed to take place, not a single note of the overture to that opera had been written. Boieldieu, who had been busied morning and evening in superintending the production of his favorite work, had put off the composition of the overture day after day until he was so worn out with fatigue of conducting unnumbered rehearsals that he despaired of his capacity to fulfill the task before him. On the night in question, therefore, he invited two of his most talented pupils Adolphe Adam, the composer of "Le Postillon de Lonjumeau," and Labarre, the famous harpist—to supper at his rooms, confided his embarrassment to them and solicited their aid. Without an instant's hesitation they placed their creative and constructive talents at his disposal, and, after a hearty meal, washed down with some inspiring Burgundy, the three composers set to work. Boieldieu wrote the introductory movement in slow time; Labarre, taking an old Irish melody as his subject, put together the allegro, and Adam in less time than an hour dashed off the brilliant coda. The whole manuscript of the overture, as a matter of fact, was completed and handed over to the copyists before midnight. The performance on the following evening was greeted with enthusiastic applause, and the Parisian musical critics were all but unanimous in pointing out to their readers that "the hand of Boieldeau was manifest in every bar of this spontaneous and paramountly characteristic composition."

Anecdotes of Kant

Pall Mall Gazette's Review of Stuckenberg's Biography.

Although fond of society, Kant became very eccentric in his habits. His conduct was regulated by a series of minute rules to which, after middle age, he rigidly adhered. Every hour had its appropriate duty, and he was wretched if anything happened to break the ordinary routine. In his lecture room the slightest change attracted his notice. It was observed one day that his lecture was somewhat confused, and he complained afterward that his "thoughts had been interrupted continually because a button was wanting on the coat of one of his hearers." At a particular time each day he was in the habit of gazing in a meditative manner at a tower opposite his window. By and by some poplars grew so high that the tower ceased to be visible from his room. Kant's meditations were disturbed, and his peace of mind was not restored until the poplars were cut down at his request by the good-natured owner. He dined at 1 o'clock, and the least delay on the part of the cook or his guests made him impatient. The order of conversation at dinner was not left to accident; it was as follows: "First the news of the day—namely, home news, then foreign, whether received by letter or from papers; second, discussions of subjects; third, wit and humor, so that their repast might end with laughter, which was calculated to promote digestion." It was sometimes thought that a man of so much method could not have genial impulses. But, says Dr. Stuckenberg, "many who were in perplexity or need were recipients of his kindness; and some of the letters from his students are filled with expressions of gratitude for the many benefits received from him."

A youth in whom he was interested proposed to study in Edinburg and to travel afterward. Kant "set aside 500 thalers, on which the young man was at liberty to draw at any time," and he was much disappointed when he found that the money had not been used. He did not like to enter a sick room; but when Green, an English merchant with whom he was intimate, suffered from gout, Kant visited him every afternoon. The comic aspect of this daily visit was, however, at least as remarkable as the friendly feeling it indicated. Kant generally found Green asleep in his arm chair. Seating himself at Green's side he would give himself to meditation and also fall asleep. Generally another friend, a bank director named Ruffmann, also came and took a nap." The three sleepers were always awakened by Green's partner at an appointed time, after which they engaged in conversation until 7 o'clock. Punctually at this hour they separated. "Often," says Jachmann, the authority of this anecdote, "I have heard the inhabitants of the street say, 'It cannot be 7 o'clock yet, for Kant has not gone by.'" Kant does not appear to have lavished affection on any one; but he was faithful in his attachment for the few who had gained his confidence; and he was as loyal to inferiors as to equals. His servant, Lampe, had at last to be dismissed for misconduct (he was suspected of having assaulted Kant); but for more than thirty years he ruled the philosopher's house. Lampe had been a soldier, and was almost as decided a "character" as his master. "Who is the king of England?" Kant would ask him in the presence of guests. "Mr. Pitt," was the invariable answer. Kant heard this so often that in the end, he himself "wanted to hear of no other king of England." One day Lampe was found to be waiting at table in a yellow coat. Kant indignantly ordered him to sell the coat at once, a white coat with a red collar being "the regulation uniform." To his amazement he then heard "that Lampe was a widower, that he expected to be married again on the next day, and that he had purchased the coat as his wedding garment." This was a sad discovery, and Kant never forgave Lampe for having been so foolish as to marry. At that time Kant was a "confirmed bachelor;" and even at an earlier period what Dr. Stuckenberg calls his "love affairs" were certainly not marked with much fervor. He thought of asking a pretty widow to become his wife; but while he was calculating "whether he could afford to marry," the pretty widow "left the city and married another man." Afterward the traveling companion of some lady fascinated him, Kant "delayed his proposal, and she was already on the border of Westphalia before he knew of her departure." Of the only other woman who is known to have led him "to the verge of matrimony" it is stated that, "on a nearer acquaintance she lost her attractions."

Political Dead-Lock

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky, September 14.—There is no prospect of breaking the deadlock in the nomination of a successor to J. Proctor Knott. There are six candidates.

Congressional Nominations.

CHICAGO, September 14.—The republicans of the nineteenth district, at Mt. Vernon, nominated George C. Ross for congress.

At Roodhouse, Illinois, yesterday, a small number of people from various parts of the twelfth congressional district nominated N. Minier. It is claimed this is a Singleton movement.

CHICAGO, September 14. State Senator Willey was to-day nominated as independent candidate for congress from Bridgeport.

CINCINNATI, September 14.—The republicans of the first district nominated Benj. Butterworth for congress. Those of the second district nominated Amos Smith, Jr., Theo. L. Young, the present incumbent, being defeated.

DETROIT, Mich., September 4.—The democrats of the Second congressional district nominated for congress Col. N. B. Eldridge.

Floods and Fever.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., September 14.—The Rio Grande is still rising. We are completely isolated; our mails neither come or go. Thirty-two new cases of fever; no deaths from fever in the last twenty-four hours; all sick in the city are doing well. It is now generally believed we have entire control of the fever and hopes are entertained of its disappearance inside of two weeks. Sick in Fort Brown are doing well, no new cases there.

MATAMORAS, September 14.—The people are very indignant at the establishment of quarantine. The city is reported healthy. The weather is clear and pleasant.

A Daring Murder.

CHATTANOOGA, September 14.—The sheriff and deputy of this county were shot and killed to-day while en route to Knoxville with a prisoner, the most daring murder in the annals of crime. John Taylor two years ago killed Captain Fletcher on the Tennessee river. He escaped at the time but was finally captured and brought to this city. He had several trials and at the last term of court was sentenced to 10 years hard labor. He got an appeal to the supreme court now in session at Knoxville. To-day at noon Sheriff Cate and Deputy Conway took the east Tennessee train having Taylor in charge. He was handcuffed. Several men boarded the train at Sweetwater, or Philadelphia, about seventy-five miles from here, and while the train was between Philadelphia and London deliberately shot and killed Cate and Conway wounded another man, released the prisoner and took charge of the train, running it through London. At Lennon's station John Taylor and his brothers, Bob and Andy, got off and forcibly took horses and left for the mountains John Taylor was wounded in the arm. The city is in intense excitement. Thirty men with rifles left on a special train on the Cincinnati Southern railroad for Kingstown. Another posse will leave overland. A posse had already left Kingstown and another London. Cate had been sheriff two weeks to-day. He was one of the most popular men in the city. He is about 50 years of age and leaves a large family. Deputy Conway was about 30 years old and a prominent local politician. Such excitement has not been in Chattanooga since the war. A special train brings the bodies here to-night. The shooting occurred about 4 o'clock.

Adams Express Robbed.

CHICAGO, September 14.—A Leavenworth special says it is learned for the first time today that on the 5th instant nineteen one thousand dollar bonds of the Leavenworth City and Fort Leavenworth Water Co. were stolen from the Adams Express Co. as they were in transit from Donnell, Lawson & Simpson, of New York, to the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Springfield. They were stolen in Springfield. The loss falls on the Adams Express Co. No clue to the thieves.

Star Route Matters

CHICAGO, September 14.—A Washington special says: At the department of justice all information relative to the star route case is refused. It is said Henry A. Bowen and Brewster Cameron will be here in a week and their cases will not be taken up until they return. The attorney general is expected here early next week to look after the conviction of defendants.

Various Causes

Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them inclines it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR will restore faded or gray, light or red hair to a rich brown or deep black, as may be desired. It softens and cleanses the scalp, giving it a healthy action. It removes and cures dandruff and humors. By its use falling hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or the glands decayed. Its effects are beautifully shown on brashy, weak, or sickly hair, on which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its results, it is incomparable as a dressing, and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR is colorless; contains neither oil nor dye; and will not soil or color white cambric; yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous, imparting an agreeable perfume.

For sale by all druggists.

By Universal Accord,

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation; and their extensive use, by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effectual purgative Pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use, and being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other Pills can be compared with them; and every person, knowing their virtues, will employ them, when needed. They keep the system in perfect order, and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild, searching and effectual, they are especially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure, if timely taken. They are the best and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild but effectual cathartic is required.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER is a scientific combination of some of the most powerful restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom. It restores gray hair to its original color. It makes the scalp white and clean. It cures dandruff and humors, and falling-out of the hair. It furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a hair dressing. It is the most economical preparation ever offered to the public, as its effects remain a long time, making only an occasional application necessary. It is recommended and used by eminent medical men, and officially endorsed by the State Assayer of Massachusetts. The popularity of Hall's Hair Renewer has increased with the test of many years, both in this country and in foreign lands, and it is now known and used in all the civilized countries of the world.

Nothing Short of Unmistakable Benefits

Conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which AYER'S SARSAPARILLA enjoys It is a compound of the best vegetable alteratives, with the iodides of Potassium and Iron, all powerful blood making, blood-cleansing and life sustaining—and is the most effectual of all remedies for scrofulous mercurial, or blood disorders Uniformly successful and certain, it produces rapid and complete cures of Scrofula, Sores, Boils, Humors, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. By its invigorating effects it always relieves and often cures Liver Complaints, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, and is a potent renewer of waning vitality For purifying the blood it has no equal It tones up the system, restores and preserves the health, and imparts vigor and energy For forty years it has been in extensive use, and is to day the most available medicine for the suffering sick For sale by all druggists

In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvellous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs Its long continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in throat and chest disorders, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will From their knowledge of its composition and operation, physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and clergymen recommend it It is absolutely certain in its healing effects and will always cure where cures are possible.

J. M. ELLISON, Agent.

Another warm day yesterday—probably warmer than some of our August days.

Alderman Downing and wife left for the east on last night's Thunderbolt with the expectation of remaining some time.

Major Macomber has returned from the San Juan country, where he has spent the summer looking after his mining interests.

There was considerable excitement on the street last night over the state convention. Everyone was anxious to learn the latest news.

The "Bee Line" excursion will pass through Colorado Springs this morning at 9 o'clock on its way to Manitou to remain over Sunday.

The new signal station on the summit of Pike's Peak, providing the weather is clear, can be readily seen from this city with the naked eye.

Rather an animated fight between two men occurred in the alley between Tejon and Cascade avenue yesterday afternoon. No arrests were made.

Manager Nye, of the opera house, has gone to Pueblo, we understand on theatrical business. While absent Mr. Tom Lynn has charge of the opera house.

A meeting of the city council will be held on next Monday evening at which time it is expected that the contract for building the new city hall will be awarded.

There has been renewed activity in the real estate business during the past week. The demand for cottages and houses to rent is larger than for some months past.

Mr. F. L. Cooper went to Denver on the Thunderbolt yesterday morning to attend the state convention and visit the exposition, before resuming his studies in Colorado college.

We are informed from pretty good authority that a new sergeant will shortly be placed in charge of the Pike's Peak signal corps. Sergeant Dey will be transferred to a new station.

More and more interest seems to be manifested daily in the Spiegel iron ore discoveries on Cheyenne mountain. That these discoveries will be of great importance to El Paso county there is no question.

Messrs. Homer Longmore, Bob Taylor and C. E. Aiken returned yesterday from a three days' fishing trip at Four Mile. They brought back with them a string of 500 trout, the best catch we have heard of this season.

It is rarely that one sees such exquisitely fine and tastefully executed work in the way of illumination in colors and in ink as that executed by a gentleman of this city, Mr. A. Miall. One specimen is on exhibition at Howbert Bros.' book store, where orders may be left for all such work.

While Mr. O. M. Cotten, the postmaster at El Paso, in this county, was at work on his ranch at that place on Wednesday, he was thrown from a mowing machine and sustained a fracture of one of his legs. Owing to the fact that Mr. Cotten weighs 320 pounds the accident is of quite a serious nature.

Dr. W. M. Strickler, chairman of the democratic central committee of El Paso county, has called a mass meeting of the democrats of the county to meet at the office of Mr. Wm. Harrison next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock to elect delegates to the state convention and attend to other matters. See official call in another column.

James McCabe, F. S. Rawson, J. L. Clark and Wm. Saxton, of the police force, publish a card in the Republic, over their signatures, denouncing as a base falsehood the charge made by Patton, the keeper of the gambling room on South Tejon street, that they had accepted hush money from him to let his gaming room alone.

Mr. W. E. Rockwell, of the stationery department of the Denver & Rio Grande, starts for Chicago this morning on a two months' vacation. We understand that he has fallen heir to a large estate at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, the settlement of which more especially calls him east. We are only too glad to congratulate him on his good luck, but at the same time hope he will return to his duties in the captain's office.

The Leadville express which passed south yesterday morning at 11:40 had on board the Leadville Blues, homeward bound from their eastern tour. So far as we could learn the tour had been a comparatively successful one for them. They sustained but few defeats at the hands of the Missouri river clubs, and return home in remarkably good spirits. Some of their players have made contracts to play with other clubs and did not return from the east. Nearly all of their good players, however, are with them, and we can expect to see the Blues give the Chicagos a good game during their visit to the state.

Again, and for the sixth time, Manager Bush has changed the date on which "Old Shipmates" will appear in this city. Mr. Bush seems to have a faculty of inconveniencing all places outside of the Tabor opera house to gratify his own selfish ends. How can a manager be expected to do good business for a company if the dates are to be changed every other day? As it is now planned "Old Shipmates" will appear in the opera house on Friday evening, September 22d. This date, it is said, can be positively relied upon.
